STANDARD CONDITIONS

While on supervised release, Defendant shall not commit another federal, state, or local crime, shall not illegally possess a controlled substance, shall comply with the Mandatory and Standard Conditions adopted by this Court set forth in Part D of the Presentence Investigation Report of which you will be informed of on beginning supervised release. You shall comply with the following conditions and any additional conditions imposed at sentencing:

The probation officer will supervise your participation in the program (provider, location, modality, duration, intensity, etc.). The defendant shall not obstruct or attempt to obstruct or tamper, in any fashion, with the efficiency and accuracy of any prohibited substance testing.

Mental Health Treatment

The probation officer may conduct a search under this condition only when reasonable suspicion exists that you have violated a condition of supervision and that the areas to be searched contain evidence of this violation. Any search must be conducted at a reasonable time and in a reasonable manner.

United States of America,

Case No. 3:19CR04-1

Plaintiff,

Defendant Acknowledges
Waiver/Right to Appeal

-VS-

Elizabeth Lecron,

Defendant.

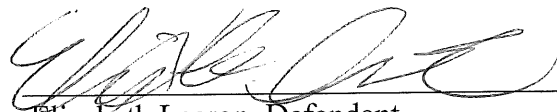

You can appeal your conviction if you believe your guilty plea was somehow unlawful or involuntary or if there was some other fundamental defect in your proceeding that your guilty plea did not waive.

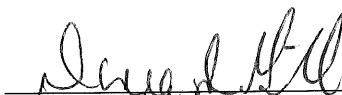

You also have the statutory right to appeal your sentence under certain circumstances, particularly if your sentence is contrary to law. However, your plea agreement may have waived some or all of these appeal rights. Such a waiver is generally enforceable.

Your Notice of Appeal must be filed within fourteen days of entry of Judgment. Your lawyer will stay on this case until you decide whether to appeal. If you are unable to pay the costs of an appeal, you may seek leave to appeal without cost to yourself. You are also entitled to appointment of counsel on appeal if unable to obtain counsel yourself.

I have reviewed and understand the above right to appeal.
